

SAVE COOKS BUTTE - STOP THE TOWER

Did you know?

The Lake Oswego City Council approved a lease to allow the construction of a 196.5 foot tall telecommunications tower at the top of Cooks Butte (April 2018). In 1975, John and Marjorie Emery deeded the land to the City of Lake Oswego for a small fraction of its true market value, and in return, the City agreed to preserve its natural habitat and never develop the land. Now, they are trying to rewrite this agreement! If the tower is allowed to be built, this monstrosity will destroy one of the last all-natural parks in Lake Oswego.

We can stop this if we unite!

Reasons why we oppose placing this telecommunications tower in Cooks Butte:

- Violates the 1975 deed between City and the Emerys who intended the park to remain in its natural state for future Lake Oswego residents to enjoy
- Deforestation and microwave damage to some of the oldest living trees in Lake Oswego
- Disruption and eliminating wildlife and bird habitat
- Noise pollution and hazardous, explosive fuel from a loud onsite generator
- Health risks for residents and park visitors associated with radiation emitted by radio and microwave technology
- Devaluation of property values associated with buyer concerns over health risks and the horrendous eye-sore

The tower is equivalent to a 20-story building! Here's a rendition of what it may look like:
